Dear Oregon Entrepreneur,

Welcome to The Oregon Start a Business Guide.

The Secretary of State, Corporation Division presents several business information resources, including the Business Xpress portal and, of course, this guide. Many state agencies worked to provide information on government registration and licensing requirements for businesses. This guide provides basic information and a general checklist to guide you through the process of starting a business in Oregon. The guide also highlights business assistance programs that can help you as you begin and continue to operate your business.

For businesses that hire employees, the Oregon Employer's Guide provides a general checklist to guide you through government's requirements for Oregon employers.

Use the guides independently or together, depending on the specific needs of your business.

COMPREHENSIVE NEW BUSINESS CHECKLIST

STEP 1 – PREPARATION

Knowledge

You should have experience in and knowledge of the business you plan to enter. If you don't have either, consider working in the industry or with a successful owner/operator for at least six months.

Experience

Having prior experience in management of people and finances is critical to increasing your chances of business success. This is extremely helpful since the majority of businesses fail due to poor or inexperienced management. Oregon's Small Business Development Centers are an excellent resource for training and assistance to help your business succeed. See "Small Business Development Centers" in this guide for more information.

Research

Do your homework. Hours spent studying your proposed business idea can save you money in the long run and give you the proper information to make sound business decisions.

Oregon's Small Business Development Centers (SBDC) provide services to Oregon's small businesses. Find the SBDC in your area at bizcenter.org.

- Visit the Oregon Business Xpress one-stop business portal at Business.Oregon.gov.
- Check with the Small Business Administration at sba.gov.
- Consult with a counselor at score.org.
- Consult with a counselor at the Women's Business Center at mercycorpsnw.org.
- Consult with the Small Business Legal Clinic (SBLC) at Lewis & Clark Law School. They provide affordable legal services to low-income small and emerging businesses, including business financing, contract review and drafting, and entity selection and formation.
- University of Oregon's School of Law, Small Business Clinic (SBC) provides free legal services to small and start-up business. It also prepares law students to represent business clients through a clinical program in which students are trained in representing small businesses. All client work is performed by law students who are closely overseen by UO law SBC supervising attorneys, who are also practicing business lawyers. Contact the SBC at bizlaw.uoregon.edu/sbc.
- Your banker knows a great deal about your area, including average income, level of competition, real estate, and rental values. Bankers can be of great assistance, if you take the initiative. Establishing a credit line with your bank can help develop a sound relationship with your banker, and a good record of payment is an advantage when applying for business loans.
- Contact insurance brokers about coverage needed for your business activity and for approximate premiums. Since insurance is a competitive business, contact several agents for a comparison of both suggested coverage and premiums.
- Visit your local library. The librarian can help you find the information you need.
- Check with relevant trade associations and the local Chamber of Commerce.

STEP 2 – PLANNING

Business Wizard

The Business Wizard is an online service offered by the Secretary of State. You answer a few brief questions to generate a customized referral list of:

- Government Licensing Contacts.
- Registration Information Contacts.
- Regulatory Contacts.
- Organizational Contacts.
- City Contacts.
- County Contacts.

This referral list contains phone numbers for key agency contacts and internet links to appropriate forms, publications and information about requirements for doing business in Oregon.

Write a Business Plan

Whether you are just starting out or already own a small business, completing a basic business plan will help you succeed. Do you need help writing a business plan? The Small Business Administration (SBA) offers a step-by-step tool to “Build Your Business Plan.” Answering a few essential questions will help you clarify and organize what you already know – or need to know – about your business operations. A clear picture of the fundamentals of your business will create a strong foundation to build new ideas, markets, and strategies. Completing a business plan provides you with a better understanding of the financial needs and profit potential of your business.

Seek Professional Advice

Consult at least two professionals:

- An attorney – Consider having an attorney examine the papers you sign. Get advice on any legal questions pertinent to your business such as tax law, liability issues, and labor laws if you plan to hire employees, or landlord-tenant laws if you plan to lease your place of business. If you do not have an attorney, you may call the Oregon State Bar toll-free at 1-800-452-7636, or visit online for referrals.
- An accountant – A certified public accountant or a licensed tax consultant can advise you and possibly save you money on taxes if you are buying or starting a business. Your accountant can review tax forms with you, help you fill out the proper reports and give you prompt financial information. If you do not have an accountant, you may call the Oregon Association of Independent Accountants at 503-282-7247, or visit oaia.net, or contact the Oregon Society of Certified Public Accountants at 503-641-7200, or visit orcpa.org for referrals.

Financing

Identify how you will finance your business. New businesses often underestimate the amount of money it takes to get a business started. An entrepreneur needs to identify both the start-up capital costs and the cash-flow requirements for a business. The total of the two, plus a reserve, is the capital recommended for starting a business. For more information on state loan programs and other tools to raise capital, check the financing sections of Business Xpress or Business Oregon.

Business Assistance Programs

The business assistance programs listed in this guide are divided into three broad categories: management and technical services, financial resources, and marketing and international trade assistance. However, some of the programs provide assistance in more than one area. Note: This is not a complete list of resources available in Oregon; this list is intended to give you some initial contacts for assistance in these areas.

MANAGEMENT & TECHNICAL SERVICES

Business Xpress provides information and assistance to help you grow your business. Business Oregon provides reports and services for and about Oregon businesses.

Small Business Development Center (SBDC) Network

The Oregon Small Business Development Center Network provides a variety of services to the business community. Services include business counseling, training, and referrals, and are aimed at both new and ongoing businesses.

Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) – located throughout the state - have classes that provide basic background information for individuals starting a business. SBDCs also offer publications and other resources that can be helpful. Additional assistance is available in the areas of international trade and technology transfer.

For more information on the services offered, call the SBDC Network Office or the SBDC in your area. There is an SBDC at each of Oregon's community colleges and at two other state educational institutions.

FINANCIAL RESOURCES

Federal, state, and local governments provide some financial assistance to small businesses in the form of loan programs. These loan programs generally do not provide funds for more than 30-50 percent of a business proposal and the loan applicants must demonstrate that they have sufficient capital, in addition to the loan, to fund the business. Loan applicants should demonstrate repayment ability, sufficient management expertise, and commitment to operate the business successfully.

Many Oregon cities and counties have economic development programs, which include financial assistance. A business should contact the city and county in which they are located, or are interested in locating, for details of their programs.

The following is a list of some financial resources available to small businesses. Contact your local Small Business Development Center or local economic development agencies for additional information on financial assistance in your area.

Local Revolving Loan Funds

There are many revolving loan funds for small business financing administered by local governments and development groups. In most cases, funding has been provided by the Department of Housing and Urban Development through the State of Oregon or by the federal Economic Development Administration. For additional information, contact the U.S. Economic Development Administration at 503-326-3078.

The Government Contract Assistance Program (GCAP) is Oregon's Procurement Technical Assistance Center (PTAC), helping businesses successfully compete for federal, state and local government contracting. GCAP provides 1) free counseling on every aspect of government contracting, 2) training workshops and conferences, and 3) a computer matching service that automatically matches a business with related federal, state, and local bidding opportunities and emails the leads on a daily basis. For example, if an Oregon business manufactures a product or provides a service, the GCAP bid-matching service emails the small business every time a solicitation matches their profile from any federal, state, local, or international government agency. GCAP offers the bid match service free for a 60-day trial, then, after the trial, it charges an annual subscription fee.

GCAP provides training for your business on many topics, including registrations and certification, market assessment, solicitations, bids, and proposals, and the potential of getting your business on a GSA schedule. For more information, contact GCAP, 1144 Gateway Loop, Suite 203, Springfield, OR 97477; visit the website at gcap.org; or call 541-736-1088 or 1-800-497-7551.

STEP 3 – SELECT YOUR BUSINESS ORGANIZATION STRUCTURE & NAME

Consider many factors when choosing the best form or structure of business ownership. The choice you make can have an impact on multiple aspects of your business and personal life, including taxes and liability. Consult legal counsel and an accountant before deciding the type of business entity to form.

How To Choose A Business Structure

While there are many different business organization structures you may choose for your business, this guide will focus primarily on the five most common types used in Oregon: Sole Proprietor, General Partnership, Limited Liability Company, Business Corporation, and Nonprofit Corporation.

Ownership, liability, management control, and taxation are just a few of the primary considerations when selecting a business organization structure. Each type has its own advantages and disadvantages. If you have questions on which structure is best for your particular situation, please consider consulting:

- An attorney.
- A certified public accountant.
- One of Oregon’s Small Business Development Centers.
- If business is in a regulated industry, contact the appropriate State licensing or regulatory agency.

Benefit Companies

An Oregon Business Corporation, Professional Corporation or Limited Liability Company can also elect to become a Benefit Company.

An Oregon Benefit Company is a type of corporation or limited liability company (LLC) that wants to consider its impact to society and the environment, in addition to profit, in the business’s decision-making process. Benefit companies differ from traditional corporations and LLC’s in regard to their purpose, accountability, and transparency.

The purpose is to create a general public benefit, which is defined as “a material positive impact on society and the environment, taken as a whole, from the business and operations of the company.”

An Oregon Business Corporation, Professional Corporation, or Limited Liability Company that would like to be a benefit company must:

- Include a statement (usually in the optional provisions) in the Articles of Incorporation or Organization that says, “The Corporation (or Limited Liability Company) is a benefit company subject to ORS 60.750 – ORS 60.770.”
- Adopt a third-party standard to assess performance against, and
- Annually prepare a benefit report identifying the actions and methods used to provide a general or specific public benefit, any circumstances that hindered or prevented a benefit, and assess how well the benefit company met or exceeded the third party standard.

For more information on becoming an Oregon Benefit Company, please visit <http://sos.oregon.gov/business/Pages/benefit-company.aspx>.

Choose a Business Name

What Names Are “Available”?

Your selected business name must be available for registration purposes, meaning no other business with exactly the same name has an active registration on the Corporation Division’s database. There may be businesses with that name that have let the registration lapse or expire. There may be businesses in other Oregon counties, states, or countries that do business under that name. There may even be businesses in Oregon that are operating under that name, but have not yet registered. The Corporation Division’s records do not include every business that may be using a name. If the name is not already taken by an active registration on the database, it is available for you to register in the public record. That said, just because a name is “available” does not mean that registering the name is advisable. See the section on “Protecting and Defending Your Name” for more information.

¹ Assumed business name registration required when owner’s “real and true” name is not part of the business name (Note: corporation and limited liability company name is the “real and true” name).

² Governing documents are internal to the business, they are not filed with the Corporation Division.

³ Limited liability protection may be forfeited by the courts in cases of fraud or misconduct.

⁴ Charities (public benefit nonprofit corporations) must have at least three directors.

⁵ Additional business, payroll and property taxes may also apply

The law requires the Secretary of State to accept names that are “distinguishable upon the record.” A business name is “distinguishable” if it does not exactly copy a name already on record. A word, the order of key words, addition of numbers, creative spelling, or even a letter’s difference in a name is often enough to tell it apart from another name in the database and make it distinguishable. In addition, an assumed business name is filed according to county, so there may be identical names in the database but associated with different counties.

You can check a name for availability prior to submitting an application. A name availability check does not guarantee the name will still be available by the time the Corporation Division processes the application.

What Are “Real and True” Names?

A “real and true” name means the first name, middle name or initial, and last name of each business owner. For corporations, limited liability companies, and other business entities, the business name registered with the Corporation Division is the real and true name of the business.

Assumed Business Names

A business name must be registered with the Corporation Division as an assumed business name if the “real and true” name of each person who is carrying on the business is not disclosed in the business name. Each person’s “real and true” name must include first name, middle name or initial, and last name. Nicknames are not ‘real and true’ names and must be registered as assumed business names. If there are words that suggest additional owners, such as “company” or “associates”, the business name must be registered.

Registration of a business name that includes the “real and true” names of all owners is optional. A corporation, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, or limited partnership does not need to register its name as an assumed business name, unless the entity wants to use the name without the entity type designation.

If a person transacts business with an unregistered assumed business name, he or she may not have standing in court to pursue or defend legal actions, and may find it difficult to do business, for example, getting licenses, opening bank accounts, and entering into contracts.

Since an assumed business name is registered by county, there may be identical names in the database but associated with different counties.

Examples of Assumed Business Names
Real and True Name	Doing Business As
	Don’t Need to Register ABN	Need to Register ABN
Tom Sorenson Construction, Inc.	Tom Sorenson Construction, Inc.	Tom Sorenson Construction Tom Sorenson Homes TSC Homes

- Sole Proprietor - If the name of the business does not include the “real and true” name of the business owner, registration of an assumed business name is required. See the previous section on assumed business names for more information.
- General Partnership - If the name of the business does not include the “real and true” name of each business owner, registration of an assumed business name is required. See the previous section on assumed business names for more information.
- Limited Liability Company - The name of the limited liability company must contain the words “limited liability company” or the abbreviation “L.L.C.” or “LLC” as the entity type designation at the end of the name.
- Corporation - The name of the corporation must contain the words “incorporated,” “corporation,” “limited,” “company,” or their abbreviation as the entity type designation at the end of the name.

Note: The corporation or limited liability company name registered with the Corporation Division is the “real and true” name of the business, so additional registration as an assumed business name is not required, unless the entity wants to use the name without the entity type designation, or wants to use a nickname.

Protecting and Defending Your Business Name

Registering your name does not give you the right to use it.

The law requires business owners to register a public record of assumed business names and entities such as corporations, but the authority to use the name comes only through asserting those rights through use and legal action.

Registering your name does not mean you can legally use it. For example, you might be able to register “Starbucks Coffee and Tea” with the Corporation Division, but the real Starbucks could still sue you. In addition, someone may register a business name that is similar to yours, but not exactly the same. That does not suggest they have a right to use that name, it just means they have told the public they want to do business using that name.

Your right to your business name is mainly established by using the name in business, and is enforced by private legal action – not by the State of Oregon. This may mean you will need to sue in court to stop the offender.

If you find yourself in this situation, it is very important to get the advice of an attorney. Consider what the loss of business and reputation will cost you if you do not get proper advice. If you weigh the time and expense it will take to straighten out mix-ups with the other business against a visit or two to a lawyer, you will have a better idea of just how valuable a consultation might be.

To find a business attorney, check the Oregon Bar Association’s free referral service at 1-800-452-7636, or ask other business owners whom they recommend.

When you are ready to select a business name or an assumed business name for your business, check the Business Registry database for name availability. Sole proprietors may conduct business under their own full legal name (first name, middle name or initial, and last name) or they may choose to register an assumed business name. See “Business Name Requirements” in this guide for more information. It may also be helpful to do a national trademark search at uspto.gov (click on the Search Mark button). You can view more information on trademarks in the back of this guide.

STEP 5 – UNDERSTANDING TAX OBLIGATIONS

Understanding your tax obligations is an important consideration for any business. You may wish to consult with a professional tax advisor or an accountant to help you understand your tax obligations.

Learn about requirements to report personal property (the physical capital owned by your business) to your county assessor's office. See the section below on Business Personal Property Tax. You will also want to check on other taxes that may apply to your business.

Most businesses will need to apply to the Internal Revenue Service for a federal employer identification number (EIN). See the Income Tax section in this guide for more information on federal and state income taxes.

If you plan to hire employees right away, you may also need a Business Identification Number (BIN), which is your state payroll tax identification number. Obtain this payroll tax reporting number online through the Oregon Business Registry or by completing a Combined Employer's Registration form available from the Oregon Department of Revenue or the Oregon Employment Department. Please refer to the separate publication Employer's Guide for Doing Business in Oregon for more information.

All businesses are required to file a personal property report with the county assessor's office each year. The report should include all personal property on the business premises on the assessment date. If your business has personal property in more than one county, you must submit a separate return in each county. See "Personal Property Tax Report" in this guide for more information.

As a self-employed individual, you may be subject to federal self-employment taxes if you are a sole proprietor or a partnership. This includes Medicare and social security taxes. You may wish to consult a professional tax advisor to determine your personal tax responsibility as a business owner.

Apply for Tax Identification Number (SS-4)

To obtain a Federal Tax Identification Number, you can file online or complete an SS-4 Form. SS-4 Forms are available at all IRS offices or the IRS will send you a form, if you call 1-800-829-3676. Be sure you include a daytime phone number on the application, in case additional information is required.

- Online: A provisional number will be assigned immediately when the form is submitted online. A confirmation letter will be mailed two to three weeks after the form is processed confirming your EIN number.
- Phone: 1-800-829-4933
You will need a completed SS-4 in hand
- Fax: You can fax the completed Form SS-4 (PDF) application to your state fax number (see Where to File – Business forms and filing Addresses), after ensuring Form SS-4 contains all of the required information. If it is determined the entity needs a new EIN, one will be assigned using the appropriate procedures for the entity type. If the taxpayer's fax number is provided, a fax will be sent back with the EIN within four (4) business days.
- Mail: Internal Revenue Service
Attn: EIN Operation
Cincinnati, OH 45999
Fax-TIN (859) 669-5760
You will receive your EIN by mail in four to five weeks.

Sales Tax Information

Oregon does not have a state sales tax. The Department of Revenue has created a website for questions about sales tax information that includes a self-authenticating “Resale Certificate” that business owners can fill out to use for buying wholesale or for exemption of sales taxes on goods purchased in another state.

Income Tax Information

Federal and State Income Taxes

All businesses must fulfill their tax obligations to the federal government and the state of Oregon. When you start a business, it is important to determine what kind of tax obligations you will have and when you will be required to pay your taxes.

This section identifies the federal and state tax forms filed by different types of business entities to meet their income tax obligations. However, for specific requirements and responsibilities, contact the Internal Revenue Service and the Oregon Department of Revenue.

Income Tax for Sole Proprietors

Sole proprietors must file Form 1040 with a Schedule C or Schedule C-EZ to meet their federal income tax obligations. A sole proprietor is liable for self-employment tax and Social Security tax, which is filed on Schedule SE if net profit is $400 or more.

To meet state obligations, a sole proprietor files state Form 40 with an attached copy of the federal Form 1040. A sole proprietor may be required to make estimated tax payments. A non-resident sole proprietor files state Form 40N with an attached copy of the federal Form 1040.

Income Tax for Partnerships

Federal tax law requires that a partnership (both general and limited) file Form 1065, and each partner receives a Schedule K-1 explaining how to place income, expenses, credits, etc., on their personal Form 1040 tax return. To meet state tax obligations, a partnership files Form 65 with an attached copy of the federal filing.

Individual partners file Form 1040 for federal income taxes and may be liable for self-employment taxes and Social Security taxes filed on Schedule SE if net income from the partnership is $400 or more. For state income taxes, the individual partners file state Form 40 with an attached copy of the federal Form 1040. Partners may be required to make estimated tax payments. Non-resident partners should contact the Department of Revenue for instructions specific to their need.

Income Tax for Limited Liability Companies

Generally, a limited liability company (LLC) files the same tax forms as a partnership: federal Form 1065 and state Form 65 with an attached copy of the federal filing. Write “LLC” on top of the state Form 65.

Individual members file Form 1040 for federal income taxes and may be liable for self-employment taxes and Social Security taxes filed on Schedule SE, if net profit is $400 or more. For state income taxes, the individual members file state Form 40 with an attached copy of the Federal Form 1040. Members may be required to make estimated tax payments.

Income & Excise Tax for Oregon Corporations

Corporations file federal taxes using Forms 1120 or 1120A. Corporations doing business in Oregon pay excise tax and file state Form 20 with an attached copy of their federal tax forms. “Doing business” is defined as being engaged in any profit-seeking activity in this state that is not protected by federal Public Law 86-272. A taxpayer with one or more of the following in Oregon is clearly doing business here:

- A stock of goods.
- An office.
- A place of business (other than an office) where affairs of the corporation are regularly conducted.
- Employees or representatives providing services to customers as the primary business activity, such as accounting or personal service, or services incidental to the sale of tangible or intangible personal property, such as installation of a product or warranty work.
- An economic presence through which the taxpayer regularly takes advantage of Oregon’s economy to produce income.

Generally, if you have an Oregon address, you file Form 20. There is a minimum excise tax as provided in ORS 317.090.

Corporations not doing business, but having income from an Oregon source, pay income tax and file Form 20-I with a copy of their federal tax forms. There is no minimum income tax. Income is from an Oregon source if it is derived from:

- Tangible or intangible property located in Oregon; or
- Any activity carried on in Oregon, whether intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce.

Insurance companies, other than title insurers, file Oregon Form 20-INS. Title Insurers file Oregon Form 20.

For information on state tax credits for corporations, contact the Oregon Department of Revenue online or by phone 503-378-4988.

Income & Excise Tax for S Corporations

An S corporation files its federal tax return on Form 1120S. Shareholders receive a Schedule K-1 explaining how to place income, expenses, credit on their personal return Form 1040. The state tax return is filed on Form 20-S with a copy of Federal Form 1120S attached. Shareholders of the S corporation should obtain information on their reporting requirements from the IRS and the Oregon Department of Revenue.

Estimated Income Tax Payments (Individual)

A sole proprietor, partner, limited liability company member, or shareholder may be required to make quarterly estimated income tax payments. In most cases, if you expect to owe at least $1,000 in federal taxes for the year after subtracting any withholding and tax credits, you must file Form 1040-ES each quarter with the IRS. Or, taxes can be paid using the free Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS). Generally, if you expect to owe $1,000 or more on the tax-to-pay line on your Oregon tax return, you are required to file Form 40-ESV each quarter with the Oregon Department of Revenue. Interest is assessed if payments are not made when they are due. Contact the IRS and the Oregon Department of Revenue for specific information.

Estimated Income Tax Payments (Corporations)

A corporation that expects to owe tax of $500 or more at the federal level is required to make estimated tax payments to the IRS. A corporation that expects to owe tax of $500 or more at the state level must pay estimated tax payments to the Oregon Department of Revenue. A taxpayer can make estimated tax payments by Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS). If a corporation is required to use EFTPS to pay its federal estimated tax, it must also use EFT to pay its Oregon estimated tax. A corporation may pay Oregon estimated tax with Form 20-V, if it is not required to pay by EFT. Interest is assessed if the correct installment of the tax due is not paid by the due date.

More information about paying corporation estimated income and excise taxes by EFT is available online, or call the EFT message line at 503-947-2017.

Personal Property Tax Report

Personal Property

All businesses are required to file a personal property report with the county assessor's office each year.

The report should include all personal property on the business premises on the assessment date. If your business has personal property in more than one county, you must submit a separate return in each county. The personal property tax form can be found online. The form itself contains more information on what property is and is not subject to tax and how to file, or you can find information online at http://www.oregon.gov/DOR/forms/FormsPubs/form-or-cppr_553-004_2017.pdf

Examples of taxable personal property include machinery, furniture and equipment, tools of the trade, non-inventory supplies, leased equipment, and libraries (such as repair manuals, sample books and law books). Any property not currently used in the business or expensed on your federal income tax business return is considered taxable personal property and must be reported. Property placed in storage is also taxable and must be reported.

Before You Buy - If you are purchasing used personal property from another business, you should check to see if there is any tax owing on the property before purchasing it.

Complete due diligence before you buy used business personal property or risk ending up with a previous owner's tax debt.

Due Diligence: 3 Steps in 3 Days

Complete within 3 days of purchase to protect your interests:

1. Ask the seller for a signed and dated disclosure statement printed on company letterhead. It should contain the following information. (If the seller doesn't have this information, they should say so in the disclosure.)
 - a. Whether there is tax debt and/or liens associated with the personal property;
 - b. The name of any Oregon county in which the personal property has been assessed, other than the county where purchase is taking place.
 - c. The name and address of any other person who has owned or had possession or control of the property; and
 - d. The fact that ORS 311.641, regarding due diligence to achieve bona fide purchaser status, may apply to the transaction.
2. Contact the tax clerk in the Oregon county where the purchase is taking place. Ask if there are tax liens against the property you want to purchase. If multiple counties are listed in the seller's disclosure statement, contact the tax clerk in all listed counties.
3. Search the Oregon Secretary of State's UCC system with the name of the previous owner(s). Print the results of your search.

Keep the results of your three-step due diligence process. If you find tax debt associated with the property, you can 1) opt not to purchase; 2) ask the seller to clear the debt/lien prior to purchase; or 3) discuss alternative payment arrangements with the county, such as a compromise payment to settle the lien.

STEP 6 – CHECK LICENSES

Many occupations and business activities require special licenses, permits, registrations, or certifications from state agencies or boards.

Check State & Local License Requirements

License Requirements

The State of Oregon does not have a general business license. However, many occupations and business activities require special licenses, permits, or certifications from state agencies or boards. The State of Oregon offers a searchable online License Directory containing information on how to acquire a license, registration, certification, or permit. This is a comprehensive directory of over 1,100 licenses, permits, registrations, and certifications. In addition, the Business Information Center’s “Business Wizard” provides information on state and local license requirements based on business activity, and location. These online services are available at:

License Directory

Business Wizard

Cities and counties may require a license for businesses operating within their jurisdictions. If your business is located within the city limits, check with your city offices to see if a local business license is required. If there is no specific listing for business licenses, the city hall information number is an appropriate initial contact.

Construction & Landscape Contractor Licenses

Who Should be Licensed with the Construction Contractors Board (CCB)

Oregon’s Construction Contractor License Act, ORS Chapter 701, requires you to become licensed with the Oregon Construction Contractors Board if you are engaged for compensation in any construction activity involving improvements to real estate.

Licensing is required for any individual or business entity that advertises, offers, bids, arranges to do, or actually does any construction, alteration, remodeling, or repair involving residential, commercial, industrial, or public works improvements. Inspection, tree service, and chimney sweep businesses are also required to be licensed. Violations can result in civil penalties of up to $5,000 per offense.

Some categories of construction work are exempt from the license, according to ORS 701.010. If you have any questions about whether you must be licensed, contact:

Construction Contractors Board (CCB)

700 Summer St., NE, Ste. 300 (to visit)
P.O. Box 14140 (for mail)
Salem, OR 97309-5052
503-378-4621
oregon.gov/ccb

CCB Requirements

- Contractors are required to have a surety bond and liability insurance.
- Before becoming licensed, contractors must complete a 16-hour education course and pass a state test. There are also continuing education requirements.
- Some work performed by contractors requires a specialty license. These include:
 - Residential home inspections.
 - Locksmith work.
 - Home energy assessor.
 - Energy Efficiency and Sustainable Technologies (EEAST).
 - Lead-based paint. Contractors performing lead-based paint activities or individuals working for contractors on lead-based paint must also be licensed by the Oregon Health Authority (OHA). OHA may be reached at 971-0673-0440 or toll free 877-290-6767.

Class of Independent Contractor

Contractors must choose an independent contractor license class of either “nonexempt” or “exempt.”

- Nonexempt sole proprietorships have employees. Nonexempt partnerships have employees, or have more than two individual partners, or have partners who are not family members. Nonexempt corporations and limited liability companies have employees and/or more than two working corporate officers or LLC members.
- Exempt sole proprietorships have no employees. Exempt partnerships have no employees, or they have two individual partners, or they have only family members as partners. Exempt corporations and limited liability companies have no employees with two or fewer working corporate officers, who qualify as non-subject workers under ORS 656.027(9), or they have no employees and all corporate officers are members of the same family (related by blood, marriage or adoption).

If you are licensed as exempt and you hire one or more employees, you must immediately notify the CCB to change your independent contractor class, supply the appropriate employer workers compensation account numbers, and pay the change fee. If you wish to change from nonexempt to exempt, you must immediately notify the CCB and pay the change fee (ORS 701.035). Commercially endorsed contractors that are exempt, are required by law to carry personal election coverage. (ORS 701.035(5)).

Employees or Subcontractors?

All contractors licensed with the Construction Contractors Board have signed an independent contractor certificate stating they are independent businesses and not employees, as defined by statute. By operating their businesses according to the standards, they are recognized as independent businesses by the Department of Revenue, the Employment Department, and the Workers’ Compensation Division, as well as the Construction Contractors Board.

The standards for independent contractor certification and operation are provided in ORS 670.600. Contractors need to be aware that hiring someone licensed as an independent contractor with the Construction Contractors Board does not automatically free them from paying taxes and workers’ compensation insurance on those individuals. Contractors can only avoid these responsibilities if the subcontractor meets the independent contractor definition. Note: Workers’ compensation case law takes a broader interpretation on independent contractor status than ORS 670.600. Workers’ compensation questions should be directed to the Workers’ Compensation Division at 503-947-7815.

A business with employees must check with some additional agencies to determine its obligations as an employer. Since the definition of “employee” differs among Oregon state agencies, read the section under each agency and under each type of tax carefully to determine if you are considered an employer for that agency or tax. If you have any questions about whether you are considered an employer, write or call the Construction Contractors Board at 503-378-4621.

For additional information about whether you are considered an employer, please refer to the Employer's Guide for Doing Business in Oregon.

Applying for a CCB License

There are two ways to become licensed. Applying for a license by mail takes about two weeks. Contractors can become licensed the same day, if they come in person to the Construction Contractors Board's Salem office and have fulfilled all the requirements that are listed in the application form.

The Construction Contractors Board must have all of the following items before licensing can be completed:

- Completed application form.
- Payment of the correct fee.
- An original surety bond.
- A Certificate of General Liability Insurance.
- Proof of completion of 16 hours of education and passage of a state test.
- Signed independent contractor certification form.
- Assumed business name or other business entity filed with Corporation Division, if applicable.
- Employer account information, if applicable, including state account (business identification number), workers' compensation, and federal IRS numbers.

Who Should be Licensed with the Landscape Contractors Board (LCB)

TWO licenses are required to do landscaping work in Oregon: the individual landscape construction professional license and the landscape contracting business license.

The individual landscape construction professional (LCP) license is the person that supervises all landscaping work performed by a landscape contracting business. The LCP license is obtained after passing an exam showing minimal competency required to perform and supervise landscaping work in Oregon.

The landscape contracting business license is granted to an entity that is licensed to contract for landscape work in Oregon. The business carries the bond, liability insurance, workers compensation (if applicable) and enters into the contract with the consumer. The landscape contracting business must either be owned by or must employ a licensed LCP to supervise the landscape activities of the business, as well as any unlicensed employees.

Oregon law, ORS Chapter 671, requires all businesses engaged in work as a landscape contracting business to be actively licensed with the LCB during all times the business performs landscape contracting work. Work as a landscape contracting business is defined by statute (ORS 671.520).

Licensing is required for any business entity that advertises, offers bids, and arranges to do, or actually does any landscaping work. Landscaping work includes the planning or the installation of lawns, trees, shrubs, vines and nursery stock; preparation of the property on which they are to be installed; the installation, maintenance or repair of ornamental water features, drainage systems or irrigation systems, and the installation of artificial turf, unless used for a sports field totaling more than 30,000 square feet. The license or CCB license is also required for the installation, maintenance or repair of fences, decks, arbors, driveways, walkways, patios, landscape edging and retaining walls.

Businesses that conduct landscape maintenance functions only, i.e. mowing, weeding and/or the upkeep of an already-installed landscape project are not required to be licensed with the LCB and are not restricted in the amount of landscape maintenance they perform. However, they may only perform $500 of "casual, minor or inconsequential" landscaping work per calendar year on property where they already perform landscape maintenance work. "Casual, minor or inconsequential work" is defined in OAR 808-002-0200.

To inquire about licensing requirements check the LCB website or you can contact the LCB:

Landscape Contractors Board (LCB)
2111 Front Street NE Ste 2-101
Salem, Oregon 97301

Phone: 503-967-6291 ext. 221
Fax: 503-967-6298
Email: LCBinfo@state.or.us

If the landscape contracting business changes owners, the business must apply for a new license and pay a new license fee, after which a new license number is assigned. In a corporation, stockholders are not considered owners for this requirement.

LCB Requirements

Landscape contracting businesses are required to have a surety bond and liability insurance and carry workers' compensation insurance if they have employees. The business must also employ at least one licensed landscape construction professional or have an owner who is a licensed landscape construction professional. In order to be a licensed landscape construction professional, the person must pass a multi-section examination that qualifies them for the phase of licensure and work they are allowed to perform.

If a person who is not a licensed landscape construction professional desires to start a landscape contracting business, and does not want to designate the role of managing owner/employee to the landscape construction professional employed by the business, they (or another designated person who is an employee of this business) must

1. Take the Owner/Managing Employee course through a board approved provider,
2. Pass the Business, Laws and Rules section of the examination, and
3. Meet all the other license requirements before the business is licensed.

Class of Independent Contractor (Employer Accounts)

Landscape contracting businesses must choose either the nonexempt or exempt class of contractor license.

- Nonexempt applies to sole proprietorships that have employees and partnerships that have employees, have more than two individual partners, or have partners who are not family members. Nonexempt corporations and limited liability companies have employees and/or have more than two working corporate officers or LLC members.
- Exempt applies to sole proprietorships that have no employees and partnerships that have no employees, or have only two partners that are family members. Exempt corporations and limited liability companies have no employees with two or fewer working corporate officers who qualify as non-subject workers under ORS 656.027(9), or they have no employees and all corporate officers are members of the same family (related by blood, marriage or adoption).

If the business is licensed as exempt and then hires one or more employees, the business must immediately notify the LCB and supply the appropriate workers compensation documentation.

Employees or Subcontractors

Oregon Law, ORS 671.525, requires a business to qualify as an independent contractor under ORS 670.600 in order to be licensed with the LCB. All landscape contracting businesses licensed with the LCB have signed an independent contractor certificate stating they are independent businesses and are not under the direction and control of another entity as defined by ORS 670.600. By operating their businesses according to these statutory standards, the business is recognized as an independent contractor by the Department of Revenue, the Employment Department and the Workers Compensation Division, as well as the LCB.

The standards for independent contractor certification and operation are found in ORS 670.600 and OAR 808-003-0260. See the definition of independent contractor to determine what standards an individual or business entity must meet before it is recognized as an independent contractor. Landscape contracting businesses need to be aware that contracting with another licensed landscape contracting business that qualified as an independent contractor with the LCB does not automatically free them from paying payroll taxes and workers' compensation insurance on the individuals performing the landscape work. Landscape contracting businesses can only avoid these responsibilities if the subcontractor meets the independent contractor definition at the time the work is being performed.

Note: Workers' compensation case law takes a broader interpretation on independent contractor status than ORS 670.600. If you have questions contact the Workers' Compensation Division at 503-947-7815.

A business with employees must check with some additional agencies to determine its obligations as an employer. Since the definition of "employee" differs among Oregon state agencies, read carefully the employment section for each agency and under each type of tax to determine if you are considered an employer for that agency or tax. If you have any questions about whether you are considered an employer, call the LCB at 503-967-6291.

For additional information about whether you are considered an employer, please refer to the Employer's Guide for Doing Business in Oregon.

STEP 7 – OTHER REQUIREMENTS

Check with the Department of Environmental Quality and the State Fire Marshal, if your business will handle hazardous wastes. See “Dealing with Environmental Permits & Regulations” in this guide.

Determine if you comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Many businesses are subject to federal law that prohibits discrimination against disabled persons. See “Comply with Americans with Disabilities Act” in this guide.

Learn about registering Patents, Copyrights, Trademarks, and Service Marks with the State of Oregon and the federal government. See “Patents, Copyrights & Trademarks” in this guide.

Check Zoning For Business Location

Be sure the location you choose for your business is properly zoned for your business activity. Other factors to consider include regulations on business signs and parking at the location.

If you are planning to operate a business from your home, you will need to determine if there are restrictions on home-based businesses in your area. Your local city or county planning offices will be able to provide you with this information.

Dealing With Environmental Permits & Regulations

Check with Oregon DEQ

Contact the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality \(DEQ\) for information on permits or regulations if your business activity involves any of the following:

- Putting waste-water into rivers and streams
- Disposing of wastes on land or into the ground
- Producing storm-water runoff associated with disturbing one or more acres of land with clearing, grading, excavation or construction activities
- Producing storm-water runoff from industrial activity
- Emitting air pollutants
- Removing asbestos-containing material
- Operating a landfill, transfer station, incinerator, material recovery facility, composting facility or septic lagoon for non-hazardous wastes
- Storing, using or transporting waste tires
- Owning an underground storage tank
- Contracting to work on an underground storage tank, including testing or cleaning up of petroleum-contaminated soil
- Creating, storing, treating or disposing of hazardous wastes

For spills or emergency response, state statute requires that when you have a release (spill) or a threat of release of oil hazardous materials, you must call the Oregon Emergency Response System at 1-800-452-0311, not DEQ.

For information about handling or storage of petroleum products, visit the State Fire Marshal’s office or call 503-378-3473, not DEQ.

Please visit the DEQ website for more complete information on environmental permits and regulations.

For air quality permitting and licensing resources, solid waste permit information, underground storage tank information and water quality permitting information, visit the DEQ website.

For more information on dealing with hazardous waste, see DEQ's Small Quantity Hazardous Waste Generator Handbook.

Check with State Fire Marshal

The Oregon Community Right to Know and Protection Act directs the Office of State Fire Marshal (OSFM) to develop and distribute the annual Hazardous Substance Information Survey.

Facilities in Oregon with reportable quantities of hazardous substances are required to report those substances annually on the survey. In addition, facilities that receive the survey for the first time are also required to complete and submit the survey. Failing to complete and submit the survey as required may result in civil penalties.

A hazardous substance is defined in Oregon Administrative Rule, 837-085-0040, as a substance required to have a Safety Data Sheet (SDS) pursuant to Oregon Occupational Safety and Health Administration (Oregon OSHA) or, any substance designated as hazardous by the Office of State Fire Marshal. This includes substances produced on site, waste substances, solutions and refrigeration system gases.

A reportable quantity is any hazardous substance that is on site at any time that meets or exceeds the following amounts:

- Liquids - 50 gallons or more
- Gases - 200 cubic feet or more
- Solids - 500 pounds or more

Lower reporting quantities apply to poisons and explosives. If a poison or explosive is on site at one time and meets or exceeds the following quantities, it must be reported.

- Liquids - 5 gallons or more
- Gases - 20 cubic feet or more
- Solids - 10 pounds or more

In addition, any quantity of radioactive substances (except sealed sources) is reportable including radioactive wastes.

A separate survey is required to be submitted for each site address in Oregon that has a reportable quantity of any hazardous substance.

Request a survey for an unreported site online.

For more information on State Fire Marshal requirements, visit the website or call the Hazardous Substance Information Hotline at (503) 378-6835 or (800) 454-6125 in Oregon between the hours of 8:00am to 12:00pm and 1:00pm to 5:00pm, Monday through Friday.

Comply With Americans With Disabilities Act

Background

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal law that prohibits discrimination against disabled persons in the areas of employment, public accommodation, and public services.

Title III of the ADA requires that public accommodations make facilities and services accessible to the disabled. Many private businesses are considered public accommodations under this law. The ADA specifies twelve types of entities that, regardless of size, are public accommodations: places of lodging, exhibition or entertainment, public gathering, public display or collection, recreation, and exercise; private educational institutions; establishments serving food or drink; sales or rental establishments; service establishments; stations used for specific public transportation; and social service center establishments.

Title I of the ADA deals with private employment and prohibits discrimination against “any qualified individual with a disability” in all aspects of employment. Title I applies to employers who have 15 or more employees.

Sale Of Securities

The Corporate Securities Section of the Department of Consumer & Business Services (DCBS) regulates the sale of securities in Oregon. The most common types of securities are stocks, bonds, and limited partnership interests. However, any type of agreement that obligates you or your business to pay another person part of your profits or make interest payments probably involves a security. If you plan to finance your business with funds other than your own, you may be involved in the offer and sale of securities.

Oregon Securities Law, ORS Chapter 59, may require that you file an application to register your securities before you offer or sell them. Contact the Corporate Securities Section before you talk to anyone about helping to finance your business. The staff can explain the law, let you know what exemptions may be available, and provide copies of the securities law and forms required for registration. You can also find the securities law and registration forms on the Division of Finance & Corporate Securities' website. If you would like to stop by and talk to someone, call first to be certain a qualified staff member will be available to assist you.

Patents, Copyrights & Trademarks

Some businesses begin with a new idea, invention, innovative concept, or new process. If your business is dependent on such intellectual property, you may want to protect it by applying for a patent or copyright. If you use a trade or service mark to identify goods or services that you provide, you may choose to register the trade or service mark.

U.S. Patents

A patent is an exclusive property right to an invention and is issued by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, U.S. Department of Commerce. It gives an inventor the right to exclude others from making, using, or selling the invention in the United States, its territories, and possessions.

The USPTO has a patent search tool online that you can use for a preliminary patent search. If you decide to apply for a patent, professional assistance from a patent attorney or patent agent is recommended, because the patent procedures are detailed and technical.

U.S. patent information, the application process, and forms for applying for a patent are available online from the United States Patent and Trademark Office

U.S. Copyrights

A copyright protects literary, dramatic, musical, artistic, or other intellectual creations from unauthorized copying or exploitation. Items such as written materials, works of art, musical compositions, and computer programs are protected by copyright. No publication, registration, or other action in the Copyright Office is required to secure a copyright; the copyright is secured automatically when the work is created and fixed in a tangible form of expression. However, there are definite advantages to registering a copyright. Copyrights are registered with the U.S. Library of Congress. Trade and Service Mark

A trade or service mark identifies goods or services made or sold by a person to distinguish them from goods or services made or sold by others. It can consist of words, names, symbols, devices, or any combination of these. The mark must be in use before it can be registered. The registration is optional.

The trade or service mark registration advises the public that the registrant believes he or she is the only person who has a right to use the mark in connection with those goods or services. It prevents the registration of an identical or similar mark, and also helps prove the date of first use.

Oregon Trade and Service Mark Registration

It is the use of a trade or service mark in Oregon, rather than registration, which creates ownership. A trademark has been used in Oregon when goods are sold or distributed in the state and the mark is placed in any manner on the goods, containers, tags, labels, or displays associated with those goods. A service mark has been used in Oregon when the mark is used or displayed in the sale or advertising of services rendered in this state. Research Oregon Trade Marks online.

The Oregon trade and service mark registration form is available online. There is a non-refundable processing fee of $50 for filing a trade or service mark application, and the mark can be renewed every 5 years.

Please allow one to two weeks for processing documents submitted by mail.

Note: Businesses are encouraged to check for conflicts with federally registered trade or service marks before registering a trade or service mark in Oregon. Since trade and service mark rights arise from the use of the mark, a current federal registration may indicate prior use of the mark by another person. Federal trademark information is available at the United States Patent and Trademark Depository Library, located at Paul L. Boley Law Library, Northwestern School of Law at Lewis and Clark College, in Portland, Oregon. The library receives periodic updates on both current and pending federal trademark registrations. For further information, call 503-768-6676. Be sure to call ahead for library hours.

Federal Trade and Service Mark Registration

A Trade or Service Mark may be registered with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office if the mark has been used on goods or associated with services that have been rendered in commerce. An applicant who has not yet used the mark may apply based on a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. The term of federal trademark registration is 10 years, with 10-year renewal terms. However, the registrant must submit an affidavit stating that the mark is currently in use between the fifth and sixth year after registration or the registration is cancelled. Trademark rights can last indefinitely if the owner continues to use the mark to identify the goods or services.

Federal Trade or Service Mark Registration information is also available online. Information on the application process and forms for registering a Trade or Service Mark is available online.

If You Use Music In Your Business

U.S. Copyright Law gives copyright owners the exclusive right to publicly perform or authorize performance of their works. Most music is protected by a copyright. The proprietor of a business in which copyrighted music is performed is liable for infringement of copyrighted music in his or her place of business. If you use music in your business in any way, including as background music or on your phone system, you should be aware of your liability for using the music.

Three organizations license performance rights for most of the music copyright holders in the United States. You can obtain more information on how to comply with copyright law regarding music use by contacting an attorney or one of these organizations.

Buying Wholesale For Your Business

If you attempt to make wholesale purchases for your business, the seller may ask for your wholesale or resale license number. Oregon does not have either a wholesale or a resale license. The number generally accepted for use as a wholesale or resale number in Oregon is the eight-digit Business Registry Number assigned when you register an assumed business name or a business entity with the Corporation Division. The Department of Revenue has created a website for questions about sales tax information that includes a self-authenticating “Resale Certificate.” Business owners may use this certificate for buying wholesale or for exemption of sales taxes on goods purchased in another state. Visit online to generate a “Resale Certificate.”

Complying with Oregon’s Unclaimed Property Law

Unclaimed property is any amount of money owed to another person or entity that cannot be found. Oregon law requires businesses and organizations to report all unclaimed assets each year to the Oregon Department of State Lands.

Common types of unclaimed property include:

- Uncashed payroll checks
- Refunds and other deposits
- Accounts receivable – credit balances
- Stocks and securities

Free training seminars on how to remit unclaimed property are offered annually, in the spring and summer. Additional information on how to report is in the Department’s step-by-step guide on unclaimed property reporting.

Oregon Identity Theft Protection Act

Oregon law requires individuals, businesses, and organizations that collect and maintain personal identifying information to follow requirements to help protect consumers from identity theft.

Personal identifying information is a consumer’s name in combination with a Social Security number, Oregon driver’s license or Oregon identification card number issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles-Oregon Department of Transportation, or a financial account or credit or debit card number along with security or access codes or password that would allow someone to access a consumer’s financial account.

Those who maintain Social Security numbers are prohibited from printing them on any documents that are mailed to but not requested by the consumer. If the consumer requests mailed documents that contain a SSN, the number must be redacted or obscured. Further you cannot print a SSN on a card used by the customer that is required to access products or services, nor can you publicly display or post a SSN (such as on a website) unless redacted or obscured. In addition, the law requires anyone who owns personal identifying information to notify affected consumers of any security breach if computer files containing that personal information have been subject to a security breach.

Oregon businesses and organizations also must safely protect the personal information they maintain by developing, implementing and maintaining reasonable safeguards, including the proper disposal of information that is no longer needed.

Owners of a small business (200 employees or less in a manufacturing business, or 50 employees or less in other types of business) comply with the safeguard requirements if its information security and disposal program contains the administrative, technical and physical safeguards and disposal measures appropriate to the business’ size and complexity as well as the nature and scope of its activities, and the sensitivity of the personal information it collects.

Those who are subject to and comply with the notification and data safeguard requirements or guidance adopted under the federal Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act already meet Oregon’s requirements for notification and data safeguarding for customers’ personal information. In addition, those who are subject to and comply with the data safeguard requirements or guidance adopted under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) for data safeguarding of patient information do not need to develop further processes. However, if a breach involves personal information of your employees, or you are developing safeguards to protect employees’ personal information, you must follow Oregon’s notification and data safeguard requirements.

STEP 8 – HIRING EMPLOYEES

The Business Information Center also publishes a separate guide to assist business when hiring employees. The Employer's Guide for Doing Business in Oregon provides a general checklist along with contact information on government requirements for Oregon's employers.

Determine Employer Status

Who is an Employer?

Are you an employer responsible for filing and paying one or more payroll tax? If you pay someone to work for you, are in charge of the way the job is done, and have the right to direct and control the worker, the worker is probably your employee. Oregon law differs from federal law and from state agency to agency.

An employer may be an individual, corporation, partnership, estate, trust, association, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization. Religious, educational, charitable, and social organizations can also be employers, even though such organizations may be exempt from paying income tax.

If you are an employer, please review the companion publication, Employer's Guide for Doing Business in Oregon and contact the individual agency programs for further information.

Who is an Employee?

An employee is anyone who performs services for pay for another person or organization under the direction and control of the person or organization. Even when the employer gives the employee freedom of action, the person performing the service may still be considered an employee. What really matters is that the employer has the legal right to control the method and result of the services, even though the employer may not always exercise that right. If you are unsure whether you need to hire an employee or independent contractor, go to <http://oregon.gov/ic> for more information.

Corporate officers, whether a C Corporation or an S Corporation, who are paid for working for the corporation are considered by the Oregon Department of Revenue to be employees of the corporation and are subject to withholding tax requirements. (ORS 316.162)

For workers' compensation purposes, one must rely on general guidelines that have evolved in the courts to make the distinction between an "employee" and an "independent contractor." If you have questions, contact the Workers' Compensation Division Employer Compliance Unit at 503-947-7815.

Who is an Independent Contractor?

In Oregon, workers may only be classified as independent contractors if they meet the provisions of laws and court decisions that define independent contractor and employer-employee relationships. If you are unsure whether you need to hire an employee or independent contractor, go to <http://oregon.gov/ic> for more information.

For some agencies, independent contractors are defined in ORS 670.600, which includes that an independent contractor must be free from direction and control. For workers' compensation purposes, an independent contractor must be free from direction and control and even free from another's right to direct and control.

Internal Revenue Service Definition

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) uses a 20-factor control test to determine employer control of the Independent Contractor or employee. Please click here for more information, or call 1-800-829-4933.

Labor Market Information

The Oregon Employment Department's Workforce & Economic Research Division has a team of Workforce Analysts who collect and analyze labor market information for individual businesses, who can then apply the information to their everyday business decisions. The Workforce Analysts are available to provide concise, up-to-date information about local, state, and national economies, on the population trends for those areas, and their effects on Oregon's workforce. Their focus is to provide information as requested by Oregon businesses related to the labor market in general, and can provide specific occupational supply and demand data, or do an analysis of a business's wage levels relative to the labor market. Workforce Analysts are also available to create customized reports for specific businesses when the data is available. The research division also publishes and distributes information that has been gathered through surveys sent to employers. Businesses can use this labor market information to identify challenges and opportunities. Economic development planners, educators and training providers, job applicants, legislators, and the news media also regularly rely on this information to learn about workforce issues that affect Oregonians.
